COLOURS WITHIN

Kamran Khaskheli

VM Art Gallery is pleased to present Colours Within, a solo exhibition by Kamran Khaskheli.

Inspired by the saturated sunsets and flora of his hometown, Badin in Sindh, Kamran produces paintings whose surfaces explode with colour. Working on wooden panels at small to mid-scale, he builds up thick, monochromatic layers of pigment; a single panel may contain as many as a hundred. Once the accumulated pigment has dried, Kamran begins to work back into it, carving through the surface so that buried colours emerge within the patterns of each composition.

In this exhibition, Kamran's abstractions emerge from memory and feeling, often beginning with an image that appears momentarily in his mind. Forms develop through the spontaneity of recollection and are gradually discovered through the act of making. As he cuts into the accumulated layers, the work reveals itself to him as much as it does through him. This uncertainty gives the paintings their particular sense of innocence and playfulness, held in tension with the precision and control of his technique.

Kamran describes the process as one of concealment and rediscovery: "I paint these beautiful colors and keep stacking them on top of each other. It's like hiding secrets. I have to find them again. I rediscover."

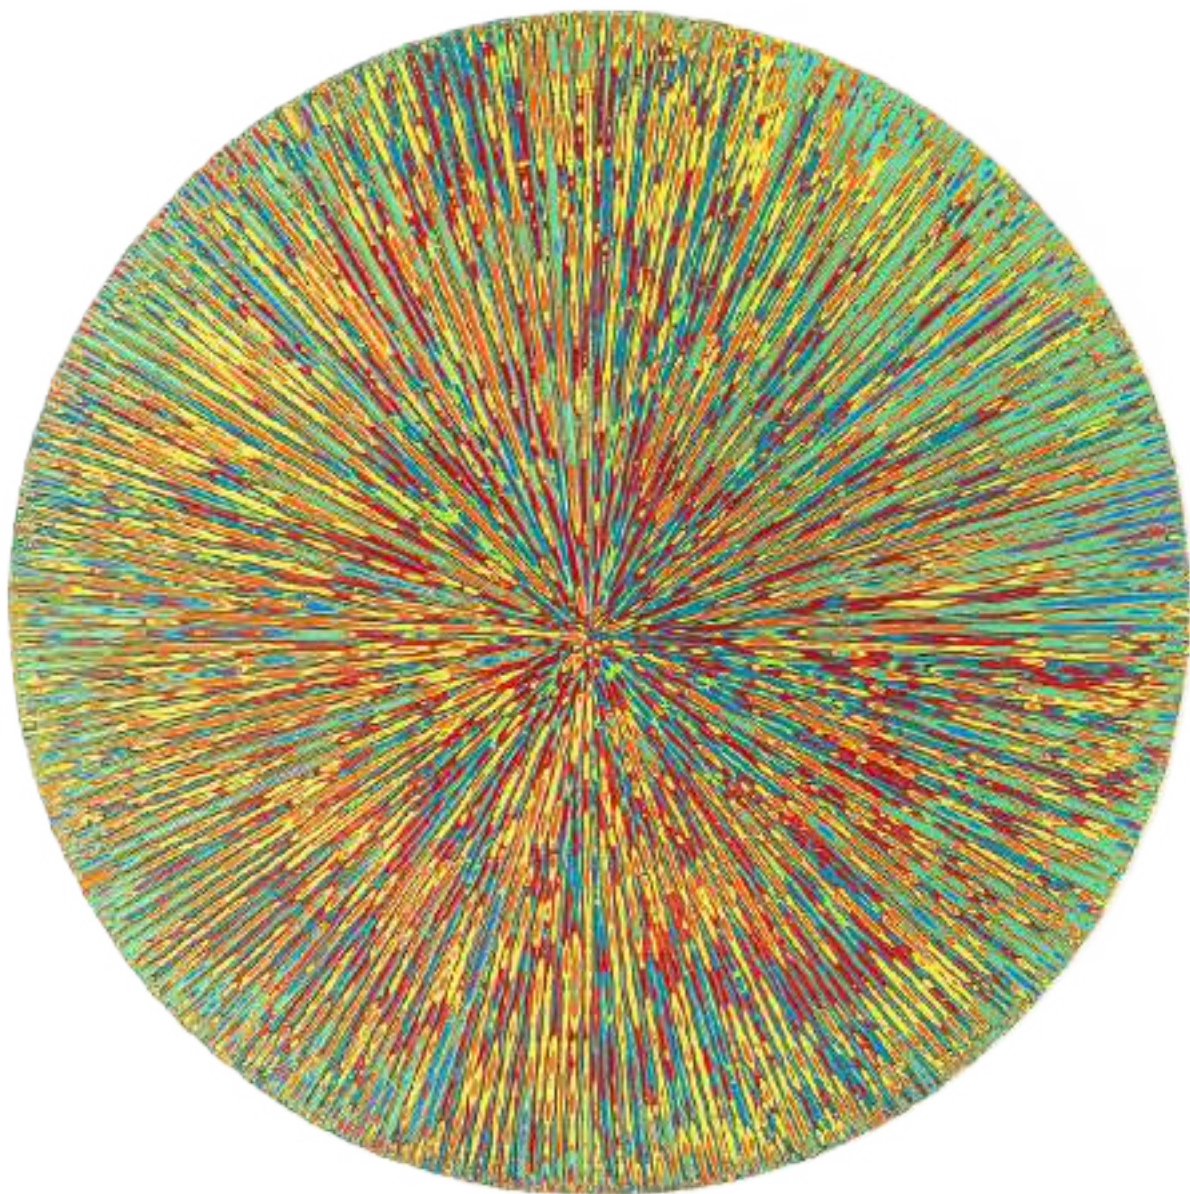

The material removed from the paintings also remains part of his practice. Fragments of coloured pigment are collected and reconstituted as sculptures, where they take on new geometric and crystalline forms.

Across this exhibition, what is hidden becomes as colourfully significant as what is revealed.
