WE LEFT AN IMPRINT

Qasim Bugti

VM Art Gallery is pleased to present We Left an Imprint, a solo exhibition by Qasim Bugti.

Qasim Bugti's practice is rooted in a deep and enduring connection with nature. He explores its beauty and complexities through its constant state of transformation. Using trees and mountains alongside other organic and natural forms, his work considers the power of Mother Nature while attending to her memory and vulnerability as well.

Emerging from the tradition of miniature painting, Bugti's process is defined by meticulous repetition and the accumulation of delicate marks. Individually fragile, these marks gradually form intricate natural structures, echoing the interconnected systems through which nature exists and regenerates.

In his recent work, this relationship takes on an ecological urgency. His landscapes reflect the growing distance between human progress and the natural systems that sustain it, shaped by environmental instability and human intervention. Rather than depicting these concerns directly, Bugti allows them to surface through colour and abstraction, creating imagined landscapes where beauty exists alongside vulnerability.

Fragmented forms and accumulated marks carry traces of time and disturbance. Nature emerges not simply as subject matter, but as a living presence capable of bearing the imprint of what acts upon it.

At the heart of Bugti's work lies a question of coexistence: if nature is the foundation of our existence, how can we continue to progress without losing our connection to it?

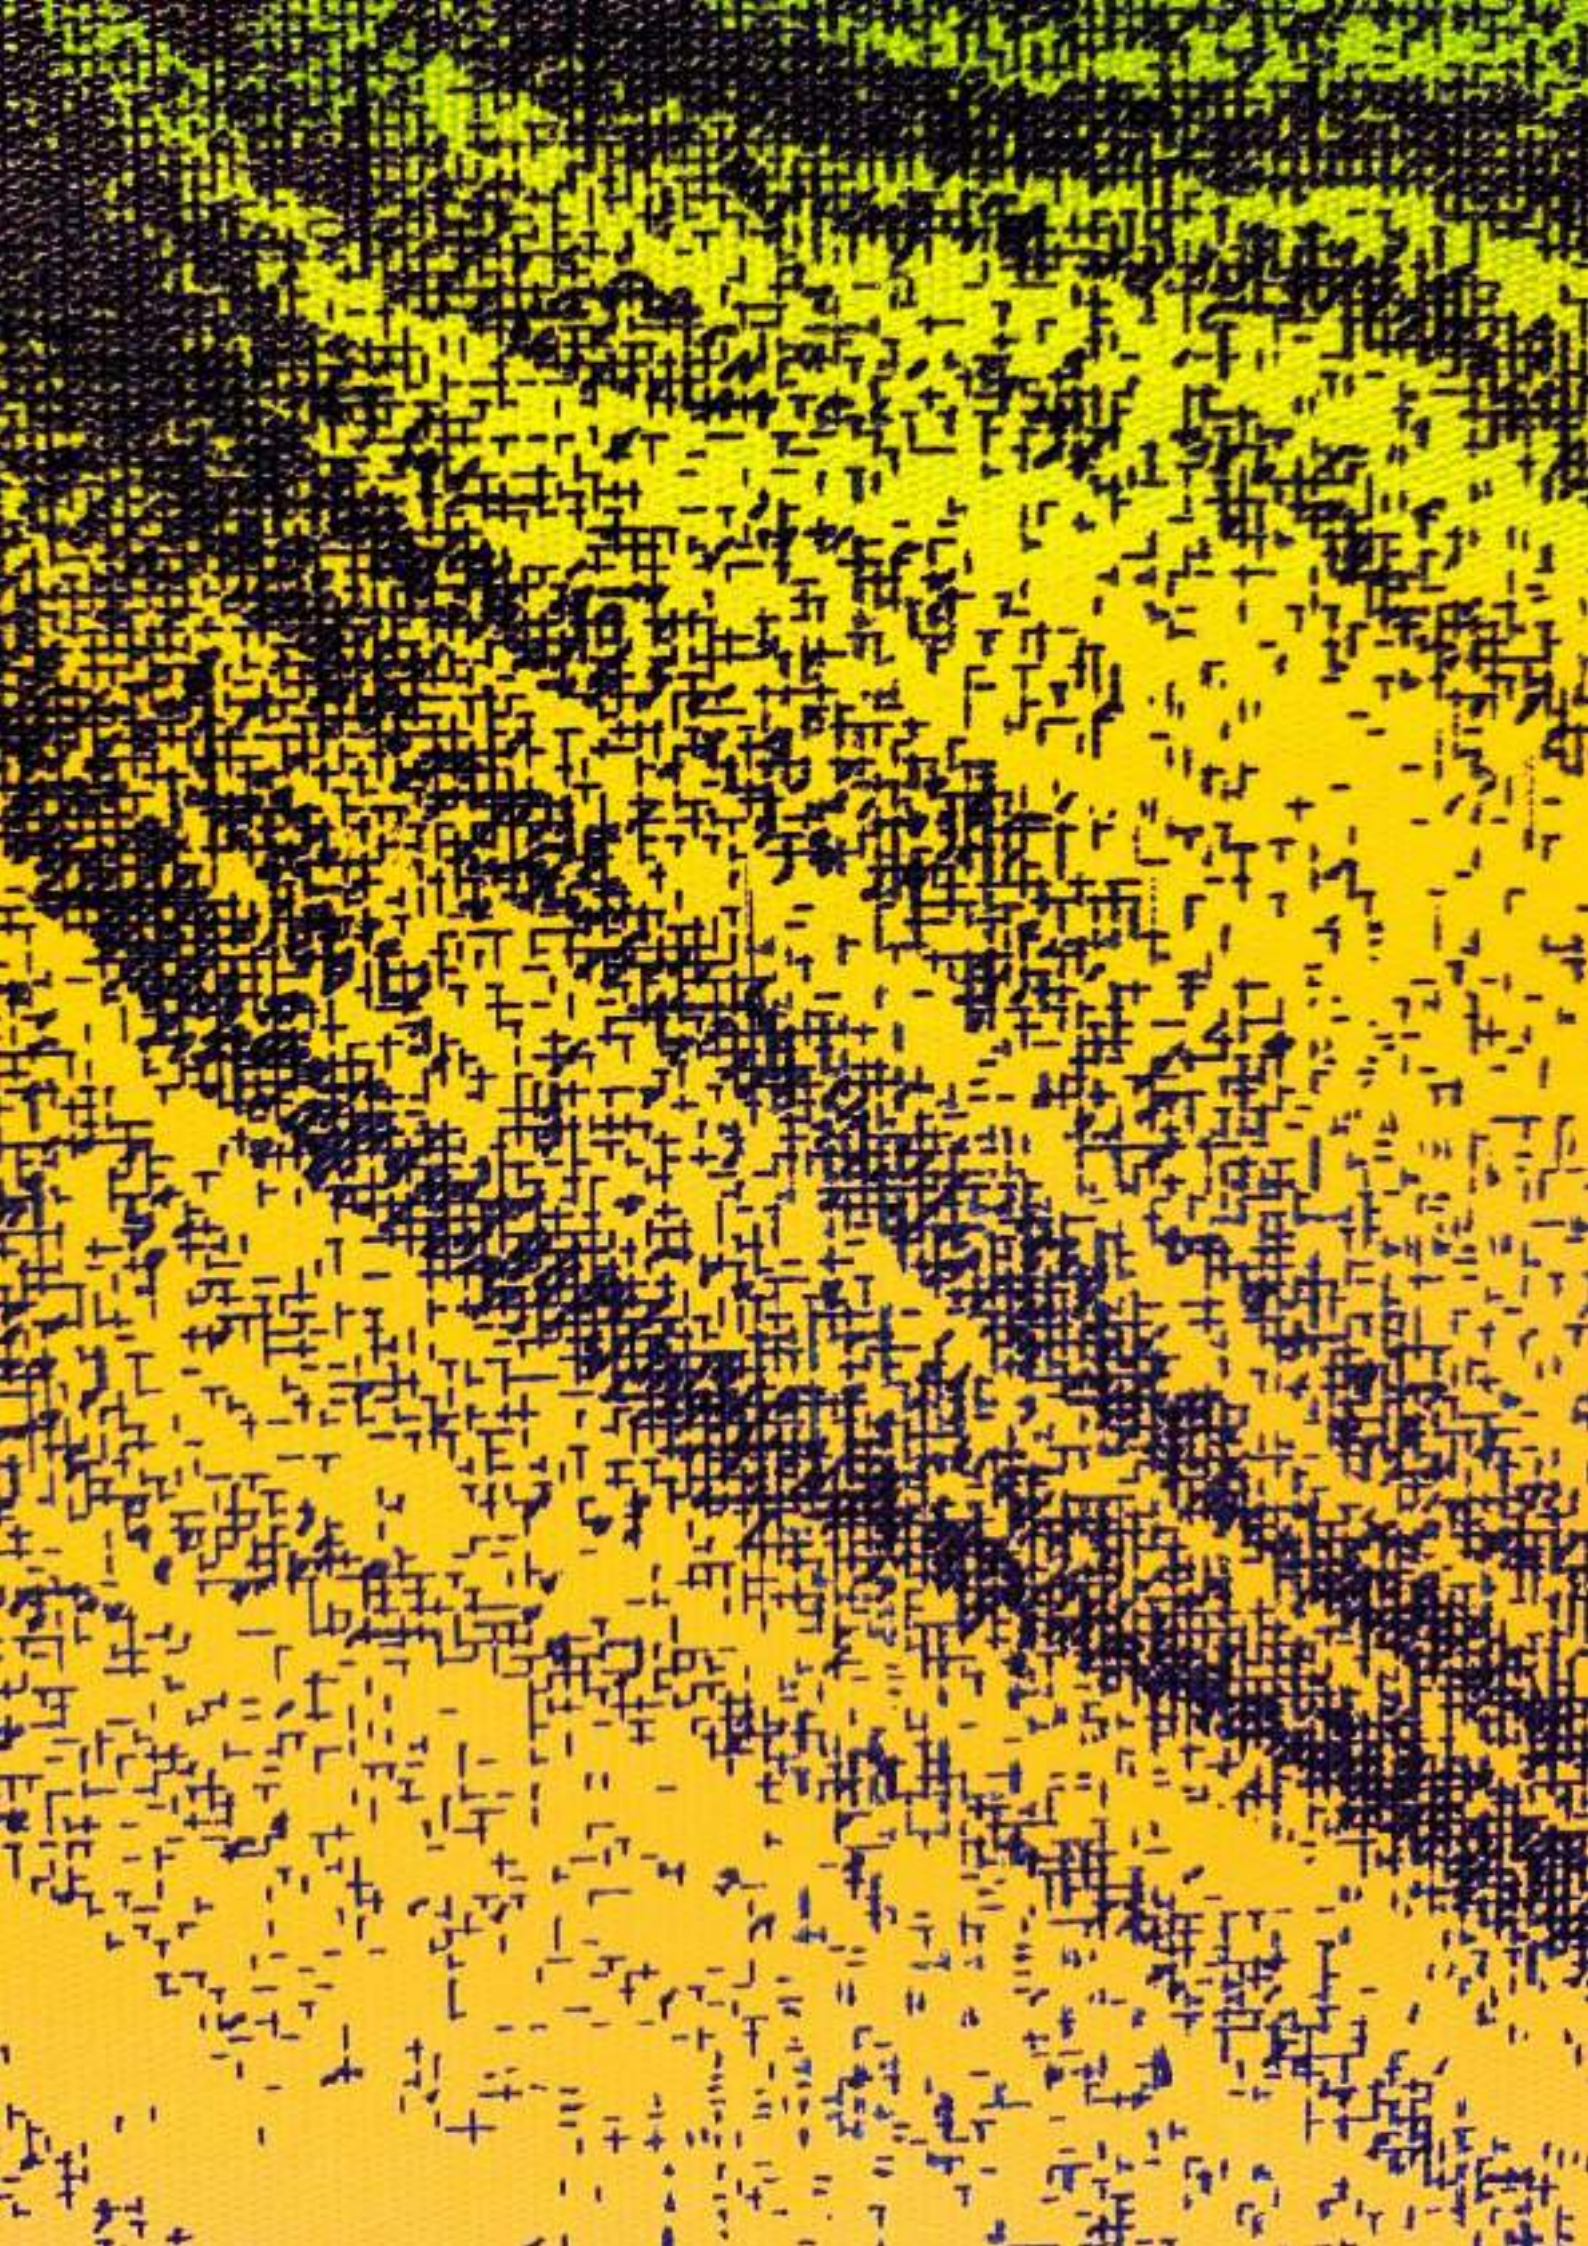

Qasim Bugti

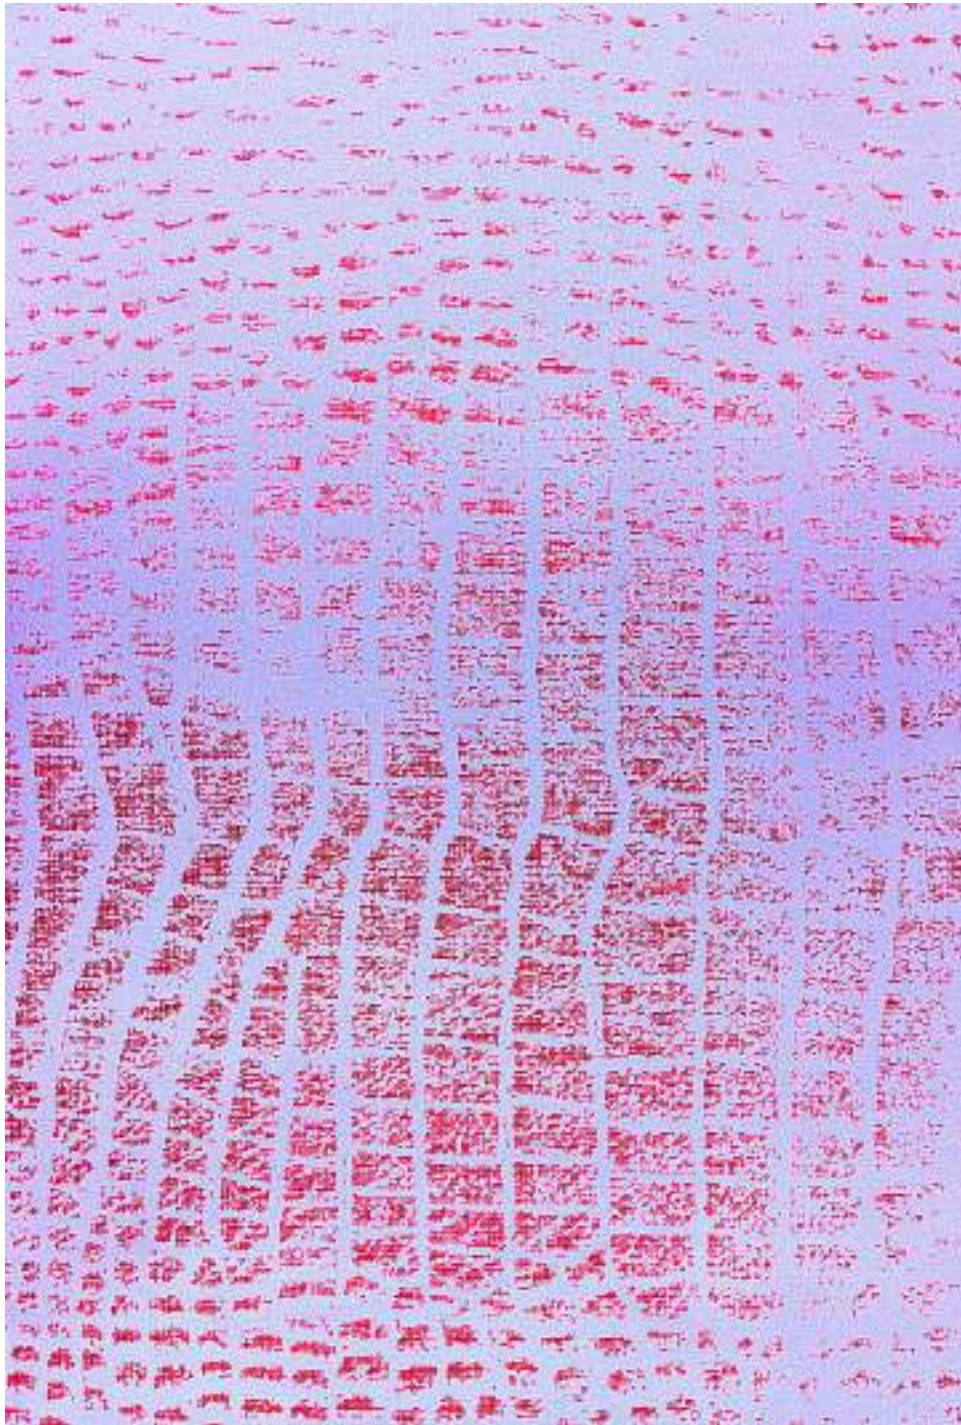

Qasim Bugti is a contemporary visual artist, curator, and art educator from Balochistan, Pakistan. Born in 1984, he received his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree with a specialization in Miniature Painting from the National College of Arts (NCA), Lahore, in 2009.
